

A photograph of a small, dilapidated stone church with a red-tiled roof and a cross on top, situated on a grassy hill. The church is made of light-colored stone or plaster, which is heavily weathered and peeling in many places. It has a simple rectangular body with a small arched entrance. Above the entrance is a small, dark, irregular opening. The roof is steeply pitched and covered in red tiles, some of which are missing or damaged. A small cross is mounted on the peak of the roof. The church is surrounded by green grass and some young trees, with a larger, more mature tree to the right. The sky is overcast and grey.
